

Electoral Services Privacy Notice

The Electoral Registration Officer (ERO) and Returning Officer (RO) are data controllers who collect and use information about residents to enable them to perform specific functions for which they are statutorily responsible.

The Electoral Services unit carries out those duties on behalf of the ERO and RO. Our lawful basis for processing your information is governed by electoral law and outlined in the Representation of the People Act 1983, Local Government Act 1972 and Electoral Registration and Administration Act 2013. We keep records about potential and actual electors, voters, citizens, candidates and their agents, staff employed at an election and the people we need to pay.

These records may include:

- basic details about you – for example, your name, address, date of birth and nationality and your contact details (telephone or email address)
- unique identifiers (such as your NI number)
- scanned application forms & dates of any letters of correspondence
- notes about any relevant circumstances that you have told us
- your previous or any redirected address
- the other occupants in your home
- If you are over 76 or under 18
- whether you have chosen to opt out of the Open (edited) version of the Register of Electors

What is the information used for?

The Electoral Registration Officer & Returning Officer need to process your personal data in order to administer elections and maintain the electoral register.

The ERO is responsible for the publication and maintenance of the Register of Electors. We will, based on your nationality, include your name on the Register of Electors so that you are able to vote. The Register of Electors is a public document, in force for twelve months, which can be viewed by appointment only under strict control. A copy of the register is stored at the Royal Borough's public libraries in Maidenhead, Windsor and Ascot. Your details remain on the electoral register for the twelve months it is in force until a revised electoral register is published for the following year. Archived copies of the electoral register are kept permanently and securely in the Royal Borough's public libraries for research and historical reference purposes. Your details will be kept and updated in accordance with our legal obligations and in line with statutory retention periods.

It is important that our records are accurate and up-to-date as they will help make sure that our staff are able to provide you with the help, advice or support you need.

Your contact details (telephone number and email address) do not form part of the electoral register and are collected as additional, supplementary information so that we can contact you more efficiently should we have a query in regard to your voter registration and/or election details. Should you no longer require us to contact you via telephone or email, you can opt-out of this contact method anytime by emailing us at electoral.registration@rbwm.gov.uk

Occasions when your information needs to be shared include:

- with our printers and software providers, to compile and manage the electoral register, to print your poll cards, postal vote packs, and other electoral material
- with registered political parties, elected representatives, candidates, agents and other permitted participants who can use it for electoral purposes only
- with credit reference agencies, the British Library, UK Statistics Authority, the Electoral Commission and other statutory recipients of the Electoral Register
- details of whether you have voted (but not how you have voted) with those who are entitled in law to receive it after an election
- where the health and safety of others is at risk
- when the law requires us to pass on information under special circumstances, crime prevention or the detection of fraud as part of the National Fraud Initiative

We are required by law to report certain information to appropriate authorities – for example:

- where a formal court order has been issued
- for the prevention or detection of a crime
- to the Jury Central Summoning Bureau indicating those persons who are aged 76 or over and are no longer eligible for jury service

Partner organisations

When you apply to register to vote, your identity needs to be verified before we can add your details to the electoral register. To verify your identity, the data you provide will be processed by the Individual Electoral Registration

Digital Service and managed by the Cabinet Office. As part of this process your data will be shared with the Department of Work and Pensions and the Cabinet Office Suppliers that are data processors for the Individual Electoral Registration Digital Service. You can find more information about this here: <https://www.registertovote.service.gov.uk/register-to-vote/privacy>

The Open (edited) Register

If your details are in the Open (edited) version of the Electoral Register, your name and address can be sold to third parties who may use it for any purpose. The law requires that we make the Open (edited) Register available for sale.

You can opt out of this version of the register at any time by emailing electoral.registration@rbwm.gov.uk.
